R8 – any concerns about adding “tribes” into the first question, per Randy Deitz’s edit?

1. Has the EPA seen and reviewed the proposal?
2. Is the EPA considering any or all of the proposal for remediation in the Upper Animas River Basin?
3. Does the proposal have merit?
4. Does it have significant drawbacks?

Christie,

Deliberative Process/Ex. 5

You may want to check with R8 on the addition of tribes to this answer.

1. Has the EPA seen and reviewed the proposal?
2. Is the EPA considering any or all of the proposal for remediation in the Upper Animas River Basin?
3. Does the proposal have merit?
4. Does it have significant drawbacks?

I had a few wording changes to this response. Do others have comments?

1. Has the EPA seen and reviewed the proposal?
2. Is the EPA considering any or all of the proposal for remediation in the Upper Animas River Basin?
3. Does the proposal have merit?
4. Does it have significant drawbacks?

All: Dan Elliott from the AP is asking about a remediation proposal for the Upper Animas River Basin endorsed by the Silverton Town Council and the San Juan County commissioners. It is called "Upper Animas River Basin Acid Mine Water Remediation Post Gold King Mine Breach: Project Proposal."

His questions:

1. Has the EPA seen and reviewed the proposal?
2. Is the EPA considering any or all of the proposal for remediation in the Upper Animas River Basin?
3. Does the proposal have merit?
4. Does it have significant drawbacks?

5. Could the proposal be eligible for funding through the Superfund program?

6. Could it be eligible for other types of funding through the EPA?

Deadline to get him our final response is 2pm Eastern today.
